

Physician Recruitment Profile

Specialty: Trauma Surgeon

Requirements:

- Board Certified/Board Eligible
- HRMC does not sponsor visas
- Fellowship trained or recent experience in a Level I facility
- Preferred start date in 2016

Practice Structure

- Employed position with benefits and paid time off
- Position will be an assistant or co-director of trauma program with one other trauma surgeon
- May have outpatient clinic for general surgery as well as cover call for Level III trauma
- Take call from home (approximately 15-20 days per month)

Financial Package:

- Competitive salary based on MGMA data and experience
- Other compensation: relocation reimbursement and sign on bonus

About Havasu Regional Medical Center and the Position

Havasu Regional Medical Center is the only Level III Trauma Center in the western portion of Arizona with a large catchment basin – which includes a number of smaller hospitals. This position will be the Co-Trauma Director working alongside a seasoned Trauma Director. This is a great opportunity for an early or mid-career trauma surgeon who may or may not have Trauma Director experience but would like that as a career path. In addition, you will be able to participate in the start of a brand new trauma program!

Havasu Regional Medical Center is a licensed 171 bed acute care facility fully accredited by The Joint Commission. Providing 24 hour emergency services, it is also a state certified ALS Base Hospital, authorizing medical direction and support of pre-hospital care providers, fire department paramedic and ambulance personnel. The facility offers a full complement of patient-centered, community hospital and regional referral services in most major medical disciplines, including open heart and neurosurgery. More than 130 affiliated physicians and allied health professionals comprise the medical staff and represent a broad cross-section of specialty areas. More information can be found on its website at www.havasuregional.com.

Located on the west coast of Arizona along the beautiful Lake Havasu and Colorado River, Lake Havasu City, population of 52,000, has earned the reputation as the outdoor recreation Mecca of the Southwest. Blessed by an ideal climate, captivating scenery, beautiful yet rugged mountains, tranquil desert and azure waters, Lake Havasu's 45-mile long lake is a nautical oasis of natural beauty. Located centrally to Las Vegas, the Grand Canyon, Sedona, Phoenix, Palm Springs, San Diego and Los Angeles, Lake Havasu City is perfectly located to live and work in serenity yet close to large city amenities.

Don't pass up this fantastic opportunity!

Links for more information:

www.golakehavas.com

www.havasuchamber.com